

SMART PUBLIC CONTRACT REGISTERS

WEBINAR

London, United Kingdom

EBRD HQ

12 March 2020

PROGRAMME

This Workshop, organized by the EBRD in collaboration with the Open Contracting Partnership, will deliver on how true, accurate and collected at the source public procurement data empowers citizens and helps to hold governments more accountable while building trust in government, providing a feedback loop on public procurement performance and generating opportunities for new and data-driven digital services. In this context, the discussion will focus on how the creation of smart public contract registers, based on a set of the OCDS business intelligence tools can enable data-driven reporting and/or monitoring of public procurement as well as ensure transparency towards citizens and businesses.

Objectives of the Workshop:

- To introduce the philosophy of Open Government and the Open Contracting Data Standard (OCDS) and related open data resources developed for the GPA Parties/EU Member States;
- To review the OCDS context of the Prozorro, Dozorro BI and MTender - from the conceptual and technology angles and learn from their achievements;
- To discuss recently completed EBRD Open Government Lab pilot projects on OCDS digital procurement, statistical reporting, business analysis and relevant technical solutions;
- To discuss the use of OCDS data by the EU Member States for creating smart public contract registers, implementing new eForms and developing reporting and monitoring tools for national public procurement system based on the online real-time OCDS export from digital procurement platforms;
- To discuss development of the OCDS middleware for existing and new electronic public procurement platforms in Europe;
- To deliver a technical workshop for the e-Procurement platforms' teams in respect to the implementation of the OCDS;
- To discuss smart public contract register pilot projects under development by the EBRD and Open Contracting Partnership.
